Why Danny Swarzman wants to join the library board

The role of the library

SSFPL is much more than a place to lend books. It houses cultural activities. It is a meeting place. It is a place to use computers. It is a maker space.

As the population grows in number and in diversity, the need for all these services grows.

My experience in technology

I have over 50 years experience programming computers. Part of my work has included designing electronics. As a hobbyist, I have worked with CNC machinery.

This experience is helpful in planning a future role for the important mission of making computer technology and training available to the public. The library is already involved in this.

Maker space

I am interested in being part of the growing maker space. I have given classes in building circuits with Arduino. I was a member of TechShop in San Francisco and have visited many maker spaces.

As a member of the library board, I would work to expand the maker space. For it to be effective, all the components of learning to make should be there. Those components include providing software for 3D design and circuit design and providing equipment and providing guidance.

There should be people who can instruct in all the skills needed to create an electronic circuit or an object through 3d printing and other CNC techniques.

In order for this expansion, the library needs to reach out to industry for funding and for donations of software and hardware.

Why Danny Swarzman wants to join the library board.

Semper 2

I would work to make this vision a reality. I would bring in partners in the community and in business so that library patrons would have what they need to become the inventors of the future.
